New Field has a variety of ways to get involved. We welcome your participation on any of our councils or committees including:

Bilingual Advisory Committee (BAC) – The BAC is comprised of parents of students that speak English as a second language. The committee meets at least four times per year. Meetings provide resources, trainings and information pertinent to English language learners.

Parent Advisory Committee (PAC) – As a Title I school (high percentage of high poverty students) the PAC welcomes all families. The PAC meets monthly with the purpose of empowering parents to help their students succeed in school.

Local School Council (LSC) – The LSC is a state mandated local governing board for Chicago public schools. The LSC is comprised of 11 elected council members. The LSC holds three main duties:

1. Approve how school funds/resources are allocated
2. Develop and monitor the Continuous Improvement Work Plan (CIWP)
3. Evaluate and select the school principal

LSC meetings are open to the public, unless convening a closed session.

Parents may also volunteer to support in classrooms, lunchroom supervision, field trips, box tops and special events. We welcome new ideas for increasing parent involvement. Parents/guardians that wish to volunteer for specific tasks may consult the “Help Wanted” bulletin board located outside of the main office.
